Items to take to the field for retrieval/redeployment

From the box we sent you

Photo Card (large ones to be filled out for each plate) Small, numbered photo cards (to be used to close-up or macro shots) Size bar Paper clips for holding photo labels Vials for specimen collection Parafilm 2 ibutton temperature loggers Cable ties Handheld thermometer

Printed versions of the following items we have sent you electronically Field ID Cards (We suggest that you print these and laminate or place in plastic protectors.) Retrieval/Redeployment Data Sheet (1 per site) Plate Data Sheets (1 for each plate)

You will need to supply

Scissors or knife for cutting cable ties Large tub(s) for holding plates Small clear plastic tub for photographing plates Bucket on a rope or other means for getting seawater for holding plates Digital camera Umbrella (depending on your site, for providing shade for photos) Clipboard, pencils, plain white paper Single-edged razor, tweezers, small paint scraper for removing specimens from plates Tools and hardware as needed for tying off bricks and cutting line GPS unit (optional) YSI or other device for measuring water temp, salinity (optional) Secchi disk or other device for measuring turbidity (optional) Other field guides for your area (optional) Non-denatured ethanol or Everclear for preserving specimens